

1.) Place an image of your company logo here.

2.) Place your email heading or tag line here.

3.) Optional image placement. You can start with body text first or any of the other components listed below (except for #8 which is always at the bottom. Too many images will result in the email going to spam.

4.) Body text can contain sub-headings, paragraphs, lists etc. Text boxes can be used multiple times and can be full or half width as suggested in #6. (special note: images can not have text wrapped around them as this can result in an undesirable effect in Gmail App for mobile)

5.) This can be text or a button. Please specify button color and / or text color. Calls to action will appear twice in the email

6.) These half width containers will stack on top of themselves on small mobile devices and will be full width on phone browsers.(optional)

7.) This layout consists of a small image aligned to the left or right of some text. When on a small mobile device (all phones), the image will stack on top and the text will be below. (optional-good for testimonials)

8.) Our company footer goes here and the background color will match whatever color you select for the background of the email outside of the 600 pixel grid. This footer can not be changed.

 Please also provide an image for the landing page that this email goes to. The size should be no less that 1000px wide.
